ATMOSFERA PROGRAMME 2017

The Malta Experience

St Elmo Bastion, Mediterranean Street, Valletta, VLT 1253, Malta

The Malta Experience is an audio-visual show that tells the dramatic story of the islands' 7000-year history. Educational, informative and entertaining, the show runs through the turbulent history of a small island nation that has overcome unimaginable odds to survive and prosper.

Parrocca ta' Santu Wistin

Triq l-Ifran, Valletta, VLT 1452

19:00 - 22:30

The convent of Santu Wistin in Triq il-Fran will be open on the night of Notte Bianca. Visitors will be able to see a display of several new items which were added in an open weekend this June. Visitors will also be able to access the lower parts of the church, where a world war vehicle exhibition will be running. The war shelter will also be open to the public on the night.

INIALA5 (The POP-UP Gallery), Valletta.

37, Treasury Street, Valletta, Malta.

16:00 - 23:00

The Encaustic Collection and Other Paintings by David G. Curmi. The exhibition will be held at the INIALA5 Valletta gallery from the 13th of September 2017 to the 12th of October 2017. The exhibition consists of 20 encaustic abstract pieces, a technique which is not widely practised locally, three hand painted guitar bodies and a number of abstracts executed in acrylic and ink. None of the works have been previously exhibited. As with Curmi's previous exhibitions, the titles of all his works are inspired by music.

Casa Rocca Piccola

connected to Malta's diverse history. Visitors can also see the WWII Bomb Shelters cut from the rock foundations.

Our Lady of Victory Church

South Street

19:00 - 23:30

Our Lady of Victory Church, the first church and first building in Valletta, was built in 1566 by Grand Master Jean Parisot de Vallette in thanksgiving for the victory of the Order of St. John and the Maltese over the Ottoman invaders. After months of bitter action the Great Siege ended on the eve of the 8 September 1565, when the enemy fleet sailed away from Malta. The church is dedicated to the Nativity of the Virgin whose birth is celebrated on the same day. Grand Master de Vallette would pray here daily and upon his death in August 1568 was buried in this church as he so had willed. His remains were later moved to St. John's Co-Cathedral where they still lie. In 1617 the Order made Our Lady of Victory its Parish church, continuing to endow it with important monuments and paintings.

St Paul's Anglican Pro-Cathedral

West Street, Il-Belt Valletta VLT 1535

20.00-00.00

The St Paul Choral Society will present a Concert of Sacred Music for Choir and Organ at St Paul's Anglican Pro-Cathedral. The programme will include music by Mozart, De Victoria, Palestrina, Duruflé, Clérambault, Oxinagas, Grech, Marcello, Handel and others. Hugo Agius Muscat will direct the concert and the organist will be Elisabeth Conrad.

The Mystery of the Bosphorus; An Exhibition of Vintage Postcards

The Malta Postal Museum, 135 Archbishop St, Valletta VLT1444

19.00 – 00.00

The MPM celebrates its contemporary renovation with style and grace highlighting Malta's postal history from the 16th century. Versatile exhibition spaces, a strong focus on children, a fully functioning retro-post office, a stylish museum boutique and a fabulous roof top terrace make this museum and art hub one of the city's more special 'arty' places.

Central Bank of Malta

Castille Place

18:00 – 23:00

The Central Bank of Malta will exhibit various antique coins acquired for its Currency Museum, with the main attraction being a special display of coins used in jewellery and for other purposes. During the event, visitors can visit the Malta Coin Centre, where they can purchase a variety of numismatic and collector coins. Moreover, Valletta-themed photos will be displayed in the passageway between the entrance opposite Tritons Fountain and the path leading to Triq Glormu Cassar on the way to Castille Square, which will be open to the general public. Visitors will also be able to visit the Victor Pasmore Gallery and a bonsai exhibition organised in collaboration with the Bonsai Culture Group in the Bank's recently inaugurated gardens.

Valletta Campus, University of Malta.

St. Paul's Street

18:00 - 23:00

In the Aula Magna, in collaboration with PBS and the DOI, a number of antique films will be shown which will take the audience back to the Maltese Carnivals of years ago. One will be able to note the differences between today's contemporary Carnival and those of fifty years ago. Other interesting films that will be shown explore the publication of election results in the 60s. In the corridors and in five rooms of the venue there will also be exhibitions with work by the faculties of Media & Knowledge Sciences, Engineering, Architecture, and short films by the faculty of Art. Motor sports enthusiasts will be delighted in a specially made racing car, made to measure, built by the student of the Engineering faculty. This car will be exhibited in one of the corridors in the university.

William Shakespeare's Long Lost First Play

Theatre, St James Cavalier

18.30-20.15

A discovery in a Leicester car park in the UK some years ago (beside a lump of bones which appeared to have no great significance), was an antique manuscript which is now proven to have been William Shakespeare's first theatrical piece. Work written by Shakespeare as a teenager of seventeen, was thought to have been lost without the hope of recovery. This manuscript is authentic. We are ready to swear upon it. Written by Shakespeare himself, we meet various characters who the Bard would later use in his famed tragedies and comedies of his future. Here we also find celebrated monologues. As it would take around one hundred hours to perform the entire manuscript, this performance will depict highlights from the text confined to a 90-minute performance. An eternal battle between the wizard Puck and the spectral Ariel to see who is the most troublesome of the two. Lady Macbeth marries Hamlet, Viola marries Richard the III, King Lear raises the three weird sisters from Macbeth, and obviously Juliet falls in love with Dromio. All this may seem fine enough, but why is there sudden appearances from Professor Snape and Peter Pan? And how does Walt Disney figure into the plot?

Skylight By David Hare

Valletta Campus Theatre (Ex-MITP) - Valletta

18:30

Kyra, a teacher of underprivileged children, who returning from work one day is surprised to see Edward, the son of her former lover, at her apartment in a London slum. He hopes she will reconcile with his distraught, now widowed, father. Tom, a restless, self-made restaurant and hotel tycoon, arrives later that evening, unaware of his son's visit. Kyra, was an invaluable business associate and a close family friend until his wife discovered the two were having an affair. Is the gap between them unbridgeable, or can they resurrect their relationship?

A Wandering Eye – Attempts outside one’s comfort zone

Space A, St James Cavalier

10:00 - 00:00

There are many different genres of photography, and professional photographers tend to specialise in one or two. Alex Attard’s preferred genres are architecture and fine art. He is the methodical photographer. The one who reflects on his subjects in a particular context, studies the light, the prevailing conditions and when all falls into place, he takes his photograph. That is his modus operandi. Travelling to China as a guest but not wishing to hold up his group while on tour, he was compelled to abandon his habitual rationale to a more intuitive and markedly uncharacteristic approach. This art photography venture attempts to catalogue and examine the photographer’s progression whilst working outside his personal comfort zone as he endeavours to produce a series of images to selectively work from on his return. Images that would eventually sit well and hold their own, as a cohesive body of work in a joint exhibition of art works, together with other artists participating in this edition of the “Inspired in China” project.
